Dear Doctor Lederberg:

During the reading necessary for the preparation of a review on bacterial resistance to antibiotics I was rudely awakened to the fact that I was ignorant of the field of bacterial genetics. In attempting to correct this condition, I have come across your review "Problems in Microbial Genetics" in Heredity. It would be a big help to me if you could spare a reprint of this article, as our library does not subscribe to Heredity and inter-library loans are on a short time basis.

Please be assured of my gratitude for your kindness.

Sincerely,

John Hays Bailey
